

High School Residency Program

The High School Residency Program (HSRP), now in its thirteenth year, will be held at the University of Georgia (UGA). In order to keep the participation fee low for all participating students, sponsorship is vital. Presentations from representatives of national and local accounting firms, industry and local government demonstrate the exciting job opportunities available in accounting. Students also get hands-on experience through accounting case studies and interactive workshops. The program introduces students to college life by hosting them in the dorms, attending classes and eating in the dining halls. Sponsorship is a great way to introduce your firm/company to the future leaders of the accounting profession and contribute to their success.
